

A French gentleman, whom the misfortunes of St. Domingo have obliged to seek an asylum on the continent of America, would be glad to live in a genteel family, where he could teach drawing, the violin, writing and the French language. He hopes, that by his assiduity and good conduct to merit the esteem of those who will honor him with their confidence. Please to enquire at the South Carolina Bank.

February 4.

at end